DEPARTURE FOR EUROPE—LAST DAY IN AMERICA—PARTING WITH FRIENDS—SIGNING OF A NEW CONTRACT WITH MR. GRAU FOR HAVANA AND THE UNITED STATES—AT HAVANA, MAY 19.

Saturday was an eventful day in the eventful career of Madame Ristori. From an early hour numerous visitors sought her residence in Sixth street, to bid her good-by, and pay their last tribute of admiration and respect to her genius, goodness, and amiable character. Bonquet, some of which were the rarest specimens of art, were brought in, until the elegant parlors seemed to be conservatories, and the cards of our principal citizens, clergymen, diplomats, politicians, literary celebrities, and other friends, were sent up from the continuous stream of carriages that "stepped the way," until the fair artist became befuddled. Then an ordeal of hand-shaking of the general grand style, and the babel of farewells, in half a dozen languages, preceded the departure of the steamer.

Yet amid this busy scene Madame Ristori did not forget the promptings of her generous heart, for the found time to make many one donations to the poor. Barely has any one from the most distinguished citizens of the metropolis as Madame Ristori and her family were yesterday. The rich and elegant society which they represented, yesterday afternoon, rode down to the steamer. The scene at the dock, the departure of the steamer, where Madame Ristori was surrounded by the intimate friends she has made here, was unprecedented. The ladies were warm, affectionate, and enthusiastic.

Her husband, the Marquis del Grillo, her son George, and her beautiful daughter, Madlle Bianca, came in for a share in the general enthusiasm. The regrets were very bitter, and the tears were not far from being shed. But it was an actor, not an actor. Mr. Grau has been long anxious to enter into a new engagement with the great tragedienne, but she wished to retire from the stage and devote herself to her family. The unprecedent enthusiasm with which she was received at her farewell appearance, the flattering serenade which followed, and the unvarying triumphal character of the past season determined her to accept of the offer. She signed a contract to appear under the management of Mr. Grau, during the next season, at the Grand Tacon Theatre, Havana, and in the United States. The contract was signed on board of the steamer a few minutes before its departure. Madame Ristori expressed herself to those present, after signing the contract, that she could not be induced to return to America under any other management than that of Mr. Grau. She used the following words: "When the artist signs an engagement with Mr. Grau, half the battle is gained." One of the last acts before the sailing of the steamer was to sign a contract with Mr. Grau with a carte blanche, on which was written: "To her good friend and excellent manager, J. Grau, souvenir of Adelaide Ristori del Grillo." Mr. Grau also presented Madame Ristori with a silk American flag, on which was the single word "Souvenir."

One of the conditions of the contract is that Giacomo's new play, Marie Antoinette, will be produced for the first time, and under the management of Mr. Grau, in New York. This is in accordance with the author's previously expressed wish, that this work should be brought out in a republican land, as the sentiments he proposed introducing in it would prove distasteful to the monarchs of France. Liberty, Schiller's celebrated Jeanne d'Arc will be also one of the features of the next season in Havana and the United States. The scenery for Marie Antoinette will be painted in France and Italy, and the costumes will be entirely new. Fifty thousand francs were deposited by each of the contracting parties with a leading banker of this city. Madame Ristori will make her first appearance next season at the French theatre on September 1st.

All the lines were cast off, and the noble steamer, one of the staunchest and swiftest of the popular French line, moved out from the pier; handkerchiefs were waved, adieus exchanged, and each strained to catch a parting view of the Queen of the Drama. The crowd on the pier was immense, and every point where a view of the steamer could be obtained swarmed with human beings.—N. Y. Sunday Herald.

Inquire Within.
The mouth is like a house to let. However pretty it may be externally, it is impossible to judge of its merits until you have seen the inside. If behind the ruby doors there are plenty of pearl-white fixtures, you will exclaim, at once, "how beautiful!" To impart the utmost possible brilliancy to such dental furniture—to keep it always sound and perfect—there is nothing like fragrant Sapon.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.
[SPECIAL DESPATCHES TO EVENING TELEGRAPH.]
WASHINGTON, May 20.
The Census of 1870.
The Bureau of Statistics is making preparation to take the census of 1870, through the Internal Revenue organization. Director Delmar has been superintending a series of statistical excise drills, the results of one of which afford a remarkable proof of the thorough organization of the various bureaus of the Treasury Department. He has taken the census of the number of the entire population of the country already, and that too without any expense whatever, excepting for stationery. The census was taken by their agents, in view of the fact that of last November and December, and is in most cases the result of actual count in the Revenue Districts.
The results will not be furnished to the public until they have undergone careful revision and arrangement.
The returns from a few of the remote mountain districts of the country are the only ones not deemed satisfactory. The present census shows the total population of the thirty-seven States in November and December last to have been 34,100,255, and of the States and Territories taken together, 34,505,882.
In most of the Southern States there has been a decrease of population in the Eastern States a small increase, and in the Western States a large increase. The results are supported in every instance by the State censuses of 1855, so far as taken.
The comparison with the census of 1850, is as follows: Thirty-seven States, a few of which were then Territories, had 28,221 inhabitants, and the total States and Territories 31,445,321. The total increment since 1850 has, therefore, been 3,060,561. A new view of the late extended Rebellion, demonstrates an extraordinary recuperative power of the country.
The population of the District of Columbia is given at 148,867, with a majority of several thousand females over males.
The Attorney-General on Reconstruction.
The importance of the forthcoming advice upon the Reconstruction acts from the Attorney-General, has excited public expectation somewhat impatient. It has been generally supposed that his interpretations of the various and novel questions involved, would all be embraced in a single report, to be promulgated, but it is said the practical operation of these measures, by developing new questions for solution almost every day, may keep that official's hands full of the subject from time to time, though the first advisory communication will doubtless embrace the main principles.
The Attorney-General will leave to-morrow for New York, where he will remain only a few days, in view of his duties, and will limit his official visit to a disease of the eye.

Consolidation—Money.
The conscience fund of the Treasury Department was still further increased to-day by the receipt of two letters, both from New York, the one containing fifty and the other thirty dollars, which the senders consider to be the property of the Government. These cases, for the most part, rose from business transactions during the late war.

The Committee to whom was referred the petition to increase size of drain on Rittenhouse street, reported that the Board of Surveyors considered the construction of a sewer of three feet six inch drain, with two inlets and one manhole, a distance of about three hundred feet.
A communication from Councils asking information relative to revision of line of Schuylkill river was received.
Mr. Miller offered the following resolution:—
Resolved, That the Board of Surveyors recommend to Councils the revision of the water lines of the Schuylkill river whenever necessary between Fairmount and Second streets, and also the establishment of a water line on the south side of the Schuylkill river, between Second and Third streets, and also recommend a revision of the water line on the river, between the Point and the Navy yard.
Mr. Smedley moved that Gowen street, between Germantown road and Mower street, be located so that its centre line shall be upon the properties of Messrs. Wolf and Schaffer, and that Hinkle street be extended southward to intersect Gowen street. Agreed to.
